Boilers are used in any industry that requires steam to incorporate into a system. Industrial boilers play an essential part in the production process. Manufacturers today prefer environment-friendly boilers that use natural gas or other types of non-harmful fuels. This helps industries to keep a check on the toxic emissions that are harmful for the environment. Manufacturers also prefer good industrial boilers that are energy efficient.

Industrial boilers are used from steam-powered locomotives to external combustion engines to power plants and several other industries. Hence, the demand for boilers are increasing at a rapid pace. The Indian boiler and heating equipment market stood at around $146 million in 2019 and is projected to grow at a CAGR of around 6 per cent to surpass $194 million by 2024. The growth in the market can be attributed to the growing demand for industrial heating equipment in various process industries.

Several key factors are driving growth in boiler industry. While demand for boilers are driven by rapid growth in manufacturing sectors, consumer industries are also pushing developments in boiler technology.
